Comprehensive solutions

Passionate about manufacturing and assembling fibreglass reinforced polyester tanks for product manufacturing processes in the food, chemical, liquid and solid storage industries, etc.

We have a wide range of polyester tanks that adapt perfectly to suit the needs of each customer: shape, capacity, location, climate, etc. We also offer many types of fermenters that are built based on cutting edge technology and new features for the food industry. At Pofisur we professionally design and develop small and large projects, from their preliminary study to assembly and installation.

We take charge of the assembly and installation of our material and carry out any type of work that may be necessary.

We develop the projects that your company requires: construction of warehouses, offices, storage, etc.

A comprehensive customer service that includes installation, assembly and commissioning.

Your project is the most important thing

For POFISUR, each project is important and unique. We make our entire team and all of our efforts available to customers. A personalised and exclusive service that guarantees a maximum quality and completely profitable result for companies.

The company

POFISUR is an Andalusian company that was founded in 1992. It focuses on the manufacturing of fibreglass reinforced polyester tanks used in product manufacturing processes in the food, chemical and liquid and solid storage industries, etc. We offer our customers a full service ranging from the bespoke manufacturing of the model based on the customer's needs and requirements, to our own transport and installation. A wide range of polyester tanks that adapt perfectly to suit the needs of each customer: shape, capacity, location, climate, etc. In addition to this wide range of tanks, POFISUR offers many types of fermenters that are built based on cutting edge technology and new features for the food industry.

As well as selling, we also take care of the assembly and installation of our material and carry out any type of work that may be necessary.

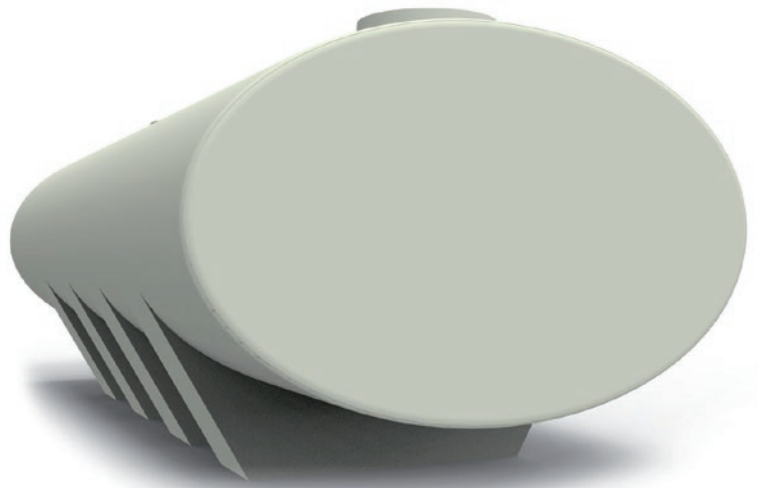

Our experience in the field as assemblers and installers and our deep knowledge of the sector, as well as the demand from our own customers, have led to POFISUR also offering a civil works service to companies. Our work encompasses the entire commissioning process in any industry.

TRUST THE PROFESSIONALS WITH YOUR PROJECT.

Pofisur has a work process based on excellence guarantee. Your project will always be in the hands of a technical team made up of experts and genuine professionals.
